

Student Testimonials

“Ane Molina is a great professor with a progressive view of education. She introduced me to new concepts and ideas back then, and I remember them daily in work and professional environments. She is a didactic person and always finds different ways to teach complicated and abstract concepts. I endorse Ane as a professor because more than ten years after her classes, I still remember the lessons she gave me with the enthusiasm she always has when teaching.”

—Rodrigo Mendes (student in 2011)

“Ane was my professor on my first graduation, almost ten years ago. She is the kind of educator we take for life, not only because of the class syllabus that she masterfully teaches but also as an opinion leader. Undoubtedly, students gain another excellent professor from whom they will be inspired.”

—André Faleiros (student in 2013)

“Anelise is an educator at heart: a person who is always present and close to all the students. With her unique way, she manages to pass all her knowledge to the students with lots of understanding, affection, and empathy.”

—Ariane Melo (student in 2015)

“Anelise Molina was a differential in my graduation. As a professor, she encouraged me to always look at it from different perspectives, focusing on graduation and our role in it. Her scholarship made room for several conversations, which thus generated different projects. She brought her experience to the classroom like a true master. As a friendly professor, she encouraged and advised us on how to connect learning with our lives. Always available, approachable, empathetic, and human. As a person, she has talents that many only dreams about - she is smart, positive, courageous, caring, and extremely loved by those who know her.”

—Victor Lacerda (student in 2015)

“Ane Molina was a professor who inspired me a lot by the way she shares and contextualizes different contents with an attentive and critical mind. More than teaching a topic, it sharpens interest in being an active part of the world, providing technical tools so that I, as a student, could compose my own perspective and develop new skills.”
